

CRANIAL AND FACIAL

Children with conditions affecting the head and face sometimes need surgery to give their brain room to grow. Our team of experts include oral and maxillofacial surgeons (OMFS), neurosurgeons, dentists, orthodontists and ear, nose and throat (ENT) surgeons working together to help children who may need bones in their face reconstructed to help them breath, chew and develop appropriately.

CONDITIONS TREATED

- Craniosynostosis
- Rare Craniofacial Clefts
- Acute and Chronic Sequelae of Facial Fractures
- Micrognathia
- Apert Syndrome
- Crouzon Syndrome
- Pfeiffer Syndrome
- Treacher Collins Syndrome
- Hemifacial Microsomia
- Parry-Romberg Syndrome
- Pierre Robin Sequence
- Diagnosis and Evaluation

MEDICAL STAFF

David M. Yates, MD DMD FACS
Cleft and Craniofacial Surgeon

Ziyad Makoshi, MD MSC FRCS FAANS
Pediatric Neurosurgeon

Lizbeth Holguin, DDS MS
Board Certified Pediatric Dentist

Vernon Burke, MD DMD FACS
Oral Maxillofacial Surgeon

